

New Baby Jogger® City Tour™ Stroller Makes Traveling With Children Easier

November 10, 2016

Brand Celebrates Launch with "Best Places to Stroll Guide," a List of Stroller-Friendly Destinations Across the Country

ATLANTA, Nov. 10, 2016 /PRNewswire/ -- Weekend road trips, flights and daily adventures with little ones just became easier with the new Baby Jogger City Tour stroller.* The latest innovation to the award-winning line of Baby Jogger strollers is light enough to fit in a backpack and small enough when folded to fit on many buses or airplanes.

The most compact Baby Jogger stroller to date, the City Tour stroller was designed with active, on-the-go parents in mind. The stroller weighs only 14 pounds and meets carry-on requirements for many modes of transportation. The one-handed fold makes it easy to fold up and take from place to place, and the matching carry bag leaves hands free to tend to children.

"Traveling with children can be stressful and a stroller should ease the burden, not add to it," said Chris Davenport, Director of Brand Marketing. "The new City Tour stroller incorporates features that help parents navigate a variety of travel situations and keeps kids comfortable on the journey so that you can have a stroller that matches your desire to be on the go."

The City Tour stroller includes additional features that enhance comfort and maneuverability. The multi-position reclining seat adjusts to the desired position with one hand and the extended UV50+ canopy keeps baby shaded on sunny days. The 5-inch durable, lightweight front wheels can be set to swivel for the daily obstacle course or locked for longer distances.

Parents have the option of five colors to fit their personal style (onyx, garnet, juniper, violet, and cobalt) and can further customize their strolling experience with accessories that can be purchased separately such as a parent console, cup holder, hand muff, weather shield and belly bar.

The City Tour stroller can be used starting at six months of age up through 45 pounds, ensuring the stroller will be around for many years and all the adventures to come.
