"Like many people, over the last few months I've started to bake more and try some basic recipes," said Schwarzenegger. "I have always been open and honest about not being super experienced in the kitchen and want to learn more, so being able to do that in quarantine has been a silver lining. I started using Rubbermaid BRILLIANCE food storage containers to keep my meals fresh, as I prep for the week ahead, and it's made the whole experience so easy and organized. I'm thrilled to be working with Rubbermaid, and with Jocelyn, to show people how to make simple, non-intimidating and yummy recipes and how to keep their pantry and refrigerator organized!"

"Recipes don't need to be difficult to be delicious. Sometimes a dish just needs a handful of elements to make the flavors come to life," added Delk Adams. "I think people are going to love what we come up with, and by properly storing food with Rubbermaid BRILLIANCE containers, the airtight lids lock in flavor to keep food fresh throughout the week, making them the perfect complement to meal prep."

'Brilliance Prep School' will take place on Thursday, July 9 at 1 p.m. EST, and will be streamed via Instagram Live from Schwarzenegger's Instagram page, @katherineschwarzenegger. Recipes featured in the virtual cooking class have been handcrafted by both Katherine and Jocelyn, and through the class they will showcase the simplicity of creating various tasty dishes using the same core ingredients.
