The new BPA-free reusable bags are perfect for sous vide cooking, microwave cooking, saving leftovers and freezer storage. The included highly functional zipper-clip tool creates an airtight seal to preserve food longer. Equipped with a specially designed valve with leakproof capability, these bags are also durable and easy to hand wash for multiple uses. The reusable bags are compatible with the FoodSaver Multi-Use Handheld Vacuum Sealer and all FoodSaver machines with a handheld attachment. The bags are available in 8 count 1-Gallon ($14.99) and 10 count 1-Quart ($14.99) packs.

"As the leader in food preservation, we're constantly developing new ways to provide consumers with solutions in the kitchen that reduce food waste and save money," said Amber Holm, Vice President, Brands, Food Business Unit at Newell Brands. "The new FoodSaver Reusable Vacuum Zipper Bags do just that. Because the bags are reusable, consumers can save money and cut back on single-use plastic waste. The bags keep food fresher, longer in the freezer, fridge or pantry with our airtight seal that preserves ultimate freshness."

FoodSaver's latest innovation of Reusable Vacuum Zipper Bags is yet another way the brand is making vacuum sealing approachable and attainable for all experience levels in the kitchen.

The average American family throws away thousands of dollars worth of food a year. In the age of rising produce inflation, this latest innovation from FoodSaver is a proven way to save money by reducing food waste.
