

Rubbermaid Introduces New Designer Series for its Classic EasyFindLids™ Collection

June 1, 2022

Home and design influencer duo Chris Loves Julia brings a modern look to everyday food storage

ATLANTA, June 1, 2022 /PRNewswire/ -- To bring modern looks to everyday food storage, Rubbermaid Incorporated, part of the Newell Brands portfolio, is introducing its new Designer Series for the popular EasyFindLids™ line, building on the brand's long history of innovative food storage and organization solutions. As part of the Designer Series, Rubbermaid® is collaborating with creators to add their personal touches to the container designs, making prepping meals and storing leftovers fun for any occasion.

Now available at retailers nationwide, the first Rubbermaid® EasyFindLids™ Designer Series collaboration is with home and design influencer duo Chris and Julia Marcum of Chris Loves Julia, who are known for uncovering their home's potential through DIY, renovations, splurge-and-save designs and day-to-day family living. Chris Loves Julia worked with Rubbermaid to put their personal touch on the new containers by adding a light, steely Skylight Blue color to the lids - a departure from the traditional red EasyFindLids.

"We believe in elevating the pieces people use every day, and these containers are as beautiful as they are functional," said Chris and Julia Marcum. "We've had the same Rubbermaid containers for 10 years, and this fresh, modern steely blue-gray has been a favorite color of ours for years. We're excited to put our spin on the classic EasyFindLids."

"We launched the Designer Series to reach new audiences, and we chose EasyFindLids because we wanted to put a contemporary spin on the classic design to cater to a wide range of consumers," said Kris Malkoski, CEO, Food & Writing Business Units at Newell Brands. "We are excited to debut this series in partnership with Chris Loves Julia, and we look forward to seeing how the Designer Series evolves and what new designs we'll develop in the years to come."

All Rubbermaid EasyFindLids containers are durable for long-term use and designed to reduce clutter and promote easy organization. The space-saving, modular design of the EasyFindLids System™ allows for flawless stacking and nesting inside each other, snapping to bases and other lids. The containers are also BPA-free, dishwasher safe and microwave safe, and depending on the lid size, the lid includes vents to help prevent splatters in the microwave.

The Rubbermaid EasyFindLids Designer Series containers designed by Chris Loves Julia are available in a variety of sizes and shapes for different needs, in sets ranging from 12 to 42 pieces. Sets start at $9.99 and can be purchased on Amazon, in-store or online at Target, and in-store at Kroger and Meijer. For more information, visit www.rubbermaid.com.
